Tables

3.1 Car wash example: costs of production 49
4.1 Categories of cooperative learning exercises 59
5.1 Two-way discussion question classification matrix 71
25.1 Percent of high school graduates earning course credit in economics: 1982 and 2000 262
25.2 Council for Economic Education’s National Content Standards in Economics: 2010 264
25.3 A sample of modern high school economics textbooks 266
25.4 National Assessment of Educational Progress: results for economics, 2006 269
27.1 Implicit subtexts found in mainstream and heterodox economics 292
27.2 Ten [institutionalist] things every principles student should learn 292
27.3 Feminist “Antidotes” to the CEE Standards 293
28.1 Mainstream principles of economics textbooks (published in 2009 and later) 298
56.1 US trade partners and total trade 590
59.1 Benefit-cost analysis of outsourcing 625
68.1 Number of baccalaureate degrees in economics awarded by US colleges and universities 726
68.2 Number of baccalaureate degrees in economics awarded by US colleges and universities (for sample divided into men and women) 727
69.1 Components of the economics major 735
69.2 Elective offerings of the economics major 736
69.3 Number and type of capstone experiences offered 738
70.2 Graduate student characteristics by PhD program rank 752
73.1 Statistical data about students of economics and business administration in Germany 781