
Contents

List of contributors	vii
Introduction	1
PART I THE ECONOMIC THEORY OF COPYRIGHT
1 The basic economic theory of copyright Richard Watt	9
2 What limits indirect appropriability? Michael Waldman	26
PART II THE LEGAL STRUCTURE OF COPYRIGHT AND THE PUBLIC DOMAIN
3 The idea/expression dichotomy: friend or foe? Eleonora Rosati	51
4 The fair use doctrine: markets, market failure and rights of use Wendy J. Gordon	77
5 The public domain Paul J. Heald	93
PART III LICENSING AND AUTHORS' EARNINGS
6 Licensing of copyright works in a bargaining model Richard Watt	107
7 Fair remuneration for copyright holders and the Shapley value Richard Watt	118
8 Economics of performers' rights Ruth Towse	129
9 The licensing of online music streaming services in Europe Sebastian Felix Schwemer	141

PART IV COPYRIGHT COLLECTIVES

- 10 Copyright collectives: some basic economic theory 167
Richard Watt
- 11 Collective administration 179
Christian Handke

PART V COPYING AND COPYRIGHT PIRACY

- 12 Copying and the pricing of information goods 207
Richard Watt
- 13 The impacts of internet piracy 225
Stan J. Liebowitz
- 14 Law and economics of copyright remedies 241
Stephen E. Margolis
- 15 Effectiveness of government anti-piracy enforcement policy:
commitment versus non-commitment 264
Dyuti S. Banerjee

PART VI OTHER ISSUES IN THE ECONOMICS OF COPYRIGHT LAW

- 16 Copyright and parallel trade 287
Frank Mueller-Langer
- 17 Open source and open access: new paradigms in the theory of copyright 311
Richard Watt
- 18 Copyright in visual art markets: some economic theory
concerning resale royalties and other options 328
Richard Watt
- Index* 343