Index

activation
as strategy in social security programmes 51, 119-120 activation policy
emphasising primacy of paid work 179, 181 labour market 77

best interests of child child perspective 68 conflicting views over social consequences of father quotas for 112
and gender equality 97, 101, 164-165
in relation to daycare 128, 133, 134, 137, 164, 179 in relation to distribution of leave 87-88, 101 bloc politics 51-55, 112, 142, 161, 202-203 see also political blocs branding of gender equality 193, 207 Nordic model serving as tool in 56 breastfeeding 64, 77, 91-92, 93, 105, 111, 201-202, 204 caring father 15, 183, 199 cash for childcare (CFC)
Denmark
minor and inconsequential 158-160
political parties 120, 159, 162
European, associated with centre-right governments 144
Finland
choice compromise in 145-149
early 2020s position 190 increasingly contested 195 limiting demand for childcare by topping up 142
Iceland
as local solutions of brief duration 162 long waiting lists for childcare triggering debate on 138 minor and inconsequential 158, 160
Nordic
benefits cut or abolished 191, 195 as highly contested 144 as more or less sidelined by early 2020s 187 new rationale for 199-200 and parental choice 144, 199-200 shifting zeitgeists and party rationales 161-165, 203-205 work incentives in direct conflict with aim of 165
Norway
controversies and partial displacement 154-158, 161
early 2020s position 190
political parties 73, 94, 129, 154-158, 163, 204, 205 restriction for immigrant parents 157, 200
Sweden
early 2020s position 190
political parties 44, 66-67, 97, 98, 150, 151, 153, 161, 192, 203, 205 twice enacted and displaced 150-154, 161 centre-left parties
in Denmark 101, 118, 120, 122, 159
in Finland 81, 109, 132, 135, 136, 147
and government coalition formation 52
in Iceland 83, 103, 104–105, 137
and minority governments 54
Nordic welfare model 42
in Norway 92, 93, 130, 131, 156, 161, 204
in Sweden 126, 203
centre-left political debate 13 centre-right parties/governments as antagonists (or consenters) of earner-carer policy 188, 202 association with CFC policies 144 criticism of institutional childcare 142
in Denmark 54, 99, 118, 119, 120, 121, 143
in Finland 53, 106–107, 132, 135, 145, 148
and government coalition formation 52
in Iceland 103, 105, 204
versus left-wing parties 51–55, 85, 142, 145, 150, 202
and minority governments 54, 92 Nordic welfare model 42
in Norway 53, 72–74, 76, 85, 92, 112, 127–132, 155, 156, 159, 161, 192, 204 opposition against childcare services’ expansion 206 part-time work as manifestation of choice 178 preferences in earner-carer era 202–206 as protagonists of CFC schemes 161, 162–163, 205–206 CFC see cash for childcare (CFC) change economic and demographic 5, 46–49 ideational 17, 25, 163–164, 178 incremental 26, 120, 143, 187, 191 paradigmatic 25–26, 187
see also modes of change child allowance/child benefit
in Denmark 121
in Finland 46
in Norway 46, 94, 155
universal 7, 42, 46, 155, 180 child perspective see best interests of child child poverty see poverty childcare
early expansion of full time places
in Sweden 122–127
enrolment rates 117, 134, 143 history and development in European and Nordic countries 115–117 institutional versus family care 139–140 Norway catching up 127–132 oriented towards educational goals
in Iceland 136–139
unregulated 140, 190
see also cash for childcare (CFC);
demand for childcare;
for-profit childcare provision;
institutional childcare;
marketisation: of childcare;
non-profit childcare provision;
private childcare;
public childcare; supply of childcare; universal right to childcare childcare policies adequate, women able to exercise rights through 140 family choice between daycare and home care as central dividing line in 132 Finnish
home care allowance as cornerstone of 145 principle of choice reflected in 149 as forming core of family and gender policy initiatives for EU 19
integrated with active labour policy
in Sweden 123
moving from family, to educational 200 rhetoric of privatisation and market-based solutions 119 social investment as influential rationale for 62
Index

see also cash for childcare (CFC) childhood
competing policy rationales reflecting different ideas
  about 29
critical life phase in knowledge economy 51 good, debate over 122 Nordic normalisation processes towards institutionalised 201 normal, institutional care for youngest children as fundamental part of 139 childlessness 170–172
childminders see private childminders choice as strong concept 199 choice compromise in Finland 145–149 see also freedom of choice/free choice; parental choice coalition governments
  Denmark 76, 99, 101, 112, 118, 120
  Finland 81, 106–107, 109, 132–136, 145–149, 165
  Iceland 83, 103, 105, 137
  Nordic 17, 27, 35, 51–54, 161, 203
  Norway 73, 92, 94, 112, 155, 204
  Sweden 69–70, 87, 98, 126, 151, 153
  cognitive ideas 30
  cohabitation 49, 80, 88, 137, 171, 172–173 collective agreements
  in Denmark 75, 78, 86–87, 100, 110
  in Finland 81
  historical perspective 40–41 as important for securing rights in terms of economic compensation 86–87
  in Sweden 69, 71, 73–74
commodification 11, 14
comparative family policy research earner-carer ideal type as central in 11, 193 expanding rapidly in 1970s 6 stimulation by Esping-Andersen’s welfare state regime approach 8–9 comparative historical analysis as advancing explanations of drivers and shapers of family policy developments 188
definition 18
insights from 188–208 observation of gradual, slow-moving processes 26 questions reflected on 187–188 confessional parties and cash for childcare
  as CFC protagonists 205
  as earner-carer policy antagonists, sometimes consenters 188, 202 family policy as top concern of 35 favouring traditional family type 32 intermediate position of 32 Lutheran parties represented in parliament 52
  in Norway 52
  opposing idea of equal sharing 112 power in pushing CFC reform 163 role in shaping family policy field 204 consensual democracies 54 conservative parties as belonging to right-wing family party 31
  as CFC protagonists 161, 205
  concerns about moral hazards induced by welfare state 49
    in Denmark 52, 76, 77, 100, 101, 119, 120, 121, 159, 204
    in Finland 107, 108, 135, 146, 147, 148, 161, 165
    in Iceland 53
    and modified capitalism 42
    in Nordic party system 52
    in Norway 45, 52, 72, 73, 85, 91, 92–93, 112, 154, 155, 157, 158, 161, 206 opposition to equal sharing of leave rights 112 on state subsidies 163
  in Sweden 54, 96, 98, 112, 161
  traditional associations 32, 34, 112, 202 as undertaking family policy realignment 34 conservative welfare regime 9 conservative welfare states 60, 116 context dependent see time- and context-dependent contextualised historical comparison 18–19, 190 conversion, as mode of change 26 daycare
best interests of child in relation to 128, 133, 134, 137, 164, 179 freedom of choice between home care and 132, 145, 149 as helping integration for children with immigrant parents 201 as making up core of Nordic childcare services 116 Nordic history 115, 117 normalisation of 143 universal provision 178, 194 see also childcare; family daycare de commodification 9, 41 defamilisation
of childcare 188, 197
concept 14–15
individualising 34
defatherisation 114
degendering
of childcare 188, 197
conception of woman worker transformed through process of 178 of legislation 201 of parent categories 190, 201–202 degenderisation, definition 14 demand for childcare correlation with mothers’ employment 140
in Denmark 119
dynamic interplay with supply 125, 139, 140, 141 efforts to curb 125, 142, 146, 156 era of entry into political agenda 115 as exceeding supply 117, 192 problem referred to as pursuit of moving target 119, 140–141 factors increasing 130, 141
in Finland 133, 136, 142
in Iceland 136–137
in Norway 127, 128–131, 156
in Sweden 125
demographic change 5, 45, 47–49
demotherisation 88, 114
Denmark
early institutionalisation of childcare 117–122 minor and inconsequential CFC in
parental leave
ambivalence over fathers’ access to 75–78, 85, 87 father quotas revived by EU 99–103, 113–114
desegregation 177–178 difference versus sameness see sameness versus difference discrimination 61, 83, 109, 176, 183, 195 discursive policy struggles 16–17, 28 displacement of CFC partial, in Norway 154–158, 191 twice, in Sweden 150–154, 191
definition 26
immature policy programs as likely to be vulnerable to 27
as mode of change 16, 26
in Nordic countries 188
divorce changing consequences 181 as multifaceted phenomenon 175 no-fault 42
rising rates 49, 72, 172–175 drift, as mode of change 26 dual-earner/dual-carer model certain policy fields as essential component in 6 as defining property of Nordic welfare states 2 ideal type 11
image of new father associated with 89 as logic supporting maternal employment 11, 154 Nordic countries as not fully reaching ideal of 207 paradigm shift 16
as ‘real utopia’ 12–14
terminology 2
as type of shorthand for Nordic family policy systems 193 eyearly childhood education and care (ECEC) as area of work-family reconciliation 12 Barcelona targets 116
CFC benefit seen to provide disincentives for children’s participation in 158 government pursuit of based on different social investment logics 116–117
in Iceland 138–139
marked expansion of services 116 outsourcing of services 122 as part of agenda for social Europe 61–62 provision of children’s right to 187
terminology 116
earner-carer ideal type 10, 11, 15, 19, 193, 194 earner-carer legacy 207–208 earner-carer policy/policies and CFC policies 161
definition 2
disaggregating 19–20 emerging from political struggles 3, 188 examples of 2, 6
and fathers’ access to parental leave 64 and fathers’ rights to parental leave 89 foundational logic of 43 incremental approach for advancement of 26 interpretative struggles 196–202 layering and displacement as most relevant modes to analysis of 26 main party protagonists 188 Norway’s slower progress of 15 outcomes association with employment and poverty 179–185 association with family instability 172–175 association with occupational gender segregation and women’s part-time work 175–179 association with relatively high fertility levels 168–172 need to be placed in time 36 party competition over as vital in Nordic countries 34 public childcare as main pillar in evolution of 139 shifting government coalitions and bloc politics as essential to development of 51 social democratic 162
well compensated, moderately long, job-protected parental leave as cornerstone of 84 women’s choice as main justification for 1970s shift in 164 see also policy formation earner-carer politics background 4–6
era of context 187–188
historicising 188–195
interpretative struggles 196–202
legacy 207–208
partisan preferences in 202–206
historicising 188–195
placing in time 2–4
earner-carer societies 179–185 earner-carer state 168–172 ECEC see early childhood education and care (ECEC) economic change 5, 46–48 economic compensation see parental leave: economic compensation economic context 190–191 economic crisis/crises of 1990s 47–48, 56, 68, 80, 125, 135, 169, 181, 183–184 see also oil crisis educare model 115–116, 130, 141, 200 educare principle 134 educational goals childcare oriented towards, in Iceland 136–139 gaining increasing recognition 134 employed mothers debate on financing parental leave in Iceland 82
in Denmark
debate on protecting 85

Anne Lise Ellingsæter - 9781802207088
Downloaded from https://www.elgaronline.com/ at 01/29/2024 11:34:17AM via free access issue of daycare provoking controversial questions about 117 needs of, as central to leave reform, in Finland 85
in Norway 71, 85, 130, 156
perceived as encumbered workers 198 policies allowing long parental leaves, as likely to preserve women’s traditional roles 175–176 policy change towards more progressive position endorsing support to 33–34 second generation of immigrants embracing concept of 184 versus stay-at-home mothers 71–72, 85, 123, 156, 163, 199–200 successful approach to 181
in Sweden 71, 151
employment
for all, logic 11
and demographic pressure 49
Denmark 78, 182, 198–199
earner-carer policies 167, 176 and economic crises 47, 48
and EU 58, 62, 195
European welfare state expansion 47
Finland 81, 108, 109, 148–149, 182
and globalisation 24
Iceland 83
immigrant 181–182
Nordic countries
accumulated rights based on prior 90–91 high, during 2010s 51
as pioneers of policies regarding 51 Nordic welfare states orientation towards support of 169 providing path to individualised benefits 61 small gender gap 167, 207
Norway 71–72, 74, 182
parental leave supporting 64 and poverty 179–185
public 57
single parent rates 181–182 and social investment 51 and social transfers 58
Sweden 182, 200
as time- and context-dependent 18
welfare state regimes conservative 9
social democratic 9
work at home deemed as equally valuable 146 see also mothers’ employment; unemployment; women’s employment employment societies 41, 208 encumbered worker 178–179, 198 equal parenthood becoming hardened layer of implicit consensus 197
definition 188
and divorce 181
individualising leave rights as move towards 109–114, 201 question for Nordic vision of 89 redistribution of care work changing meaning of 179 equal status contract 59 equality agenda, broadening 59–62 essentialist ideas/discourse 111–112, 197 ethnic minority/minorities 121, 183
EU see European Union (EU) European Union (EU)
as active promoter of women’s employment and childcare services 116 average child poverty rates 180 employment strategy 62 father quotas revived by 99–103 as guarantor of Nordic individual leave rights 194 having little significance for Nordic family policy development 61 increasing role in spread of policy ideas 19 Nordic countries’ different associations with 47 parental leave regulations 61, 65, 70, 78, 89–90, 104 prioritising economic and employment growth rationale 195 see also Work-Life Balance Directive
Europeanisation 47, 61

familisation
CFC benefits as measure 144 and conservative parties 34 and individual versus collective 32 shift to individualisation 189 weakening trends in 201

familisation policies
definition 14
versus individualisation 14–15, 205 family childcare versus institutional childcare 139–143 family daycare

as cheaper solution 192
Denmark 118
Finland 133, 135
Iceland 138
Nordic 116, 140
Norway 128, 129, 131
Sweden 44, 123
see also childcare; daycare family diversity 69, 88, 114 family instability as earner-carer policy outcome 172–175 poverty rates associated with 180

as time- and context-dependent 18

family policy
comparative analysis 15–16 concept 5–6
modelling 8–11
modes of change 25–28
Nordic 15–16
pre-1970s 42–46
uneven developments 6–8

family politics 30–32, 61, 192 father-child relationship 67, 71, 80, 112

father quotas
and best interests of child 112

Denmark
abolishment 78, 110
opposition to 114
partisan preferences 112
revived by EU 99–103, 113–114

Finland
compromises, failed attempts and improvement of reforms 80, 106–109 conditional month first instituted 80

Iceland
expanding and individualising model 103–106

Norway
battles in 90–95
double care allowed under 74
partisan preferences 112
shortening in 110

Sweden
lengthy process in extending 95–99, 110
partisan preferences 112
see also parental leave: quotas

fatherhood
caring 20, 170
competing policy rationales reflecting different ideas about 29 political 15
‘proper’, changing gendered beliefs about 197–198 see also politicisation of fatherhood

fathers
caring 15, 183, 199
defatherisation 114
new 67, 89, 95
single 181
see also parental leave rights: of fathers feedback effects characteristics 27

definition 16
earner-carer reforms 191 ideas having 28
as integral to policy change 16 negative 27, 110, 191, 205
and parental leave 89, 110 positive 27, 162, 191 related to childcare 141, 162 on society, policies creating 36 female caregiver role 2, 178–179 female emancipation 148, 206 female labour force/labour market participation 11, 116, 167, 177, 182, 184 female labour supply 132 fertility decline 7, 43, 49, 72, 168–172 fertility rates 49, 167, 168–172

Finland

CFC choice compromise 145–149 first universal right to childcare 132–136
parental leave
  compromise, failed attempts, 145–149 and improvement of reforms 80, 106–109 from mother hegemony to parental equality 78–82

flexibility

CFC 157, 159–160, 164
dual-earner families 173
employment 51
family day care 118
parental leave 64, 69, 74, 78, 81, 83, 97, 98, 106, 109 welfare state model 55–58 workplace 12, 48

freedom of choice/free choice appearance on political agenda 50
Denmark 100, 118, 119, 159, 205
Finland 81, 108, 132, 145, 148, 149
and gender equality 72, 81, 108, 132, 152, 153, 156, 157 between home care and alternative care forms 158 and daycare 132, 145, 149
Iceland 105–106
as influential family policy concept 199 as liberal principle 111 as main policy rationale 144
Norway 72, 73, 154–158, 163
Sweden 45, 67, 97, 123, 150–153
see also parental choice functional explanations 8 functionalist history of welfare state 23 functionalist ideas 43 functionalist interpretation of family policy 8 gender division of labour 11, 61, 67, 90 gender equality

  and best interests of child 97, 101, 164–165 branding of 193, 207
and CFC 144, 164, 165, 199
and childcare policy rationale 116 contradictory policy developments related to 165 as cultural construct 24

definition 24
Denmark 75–77, 99, 101–102, 110, 117, 183, 196
dual-earner/dual-carer model promoting 12 earner-carer legacy 207, 208
and EU 61, 195
and family stability 175
Finland 79–81, 106–109, 132, 147–148, 201
and freedom of choice 72, 81, 108, 132, 152, 153, 156, 157
Iceland 103–104, 106, 137
ideas around, emerging in 1960s 7 and immigrants 156–157, 165, 183–184, 199 and increasing divorce rates 173–174 institutionalisation of objective 84 and labour market 86, 175, 183 leave quotas as particular version of idea of 89 new imaginary of 197–198 Nordic countries as most committed to 15

Nordic differences 113
Nordic fertility 169–170, 172 and Nordicness of fatherhood policy model 89
Norway 45, 70–73, 85, 93–94, 156, 157, 178, 183
parental leave promoting 64 as part of Nordic branding 193 party positions on 202–203, 206 policies from 1970s 59–62, 84, 187, 189 policy transformations 3, 197–198 pre-1970s policies 43–44, 45–46 and problem definitions 29–30 quotas as tools in engendering 196–197 sameness versus difference 15 24–25

shift in ideational layers 196–202
as strong concept 196
as subject to conflict and lasting negotiations 196 and welfare state modernisation 23–25 see also parental choice: and gender equality gender-neutral citizenship, ideas about in interwar period 44 gender-neutral language 83, 195 gender-neutral mandate of employment for all 11 gender-neutral parental leave 66–70, 71, 84, 87, 107, 109, 189–190 gender-neutral parenting terms 81–82 gender neutrality, idea of, in Sweden 85 gender regimes
ideal typical 10
varieties of modernity involving different forms of 24 gender segregation Nordic modernisation challenging gender order based on 23 occupational 18, 167, 168, 175, 176–178
as time- and context-dependent 18
gender symmetry 13, 175
gendered division of labour assumption that women’s emancipation demands dissolution of 13 CFC benefits likely to support 162 changes in 5 dual-earner/dual-carer logic diminishing 11 and male breadwinner family logic 2 Norwegian political parties 72, 76 specialisation of, increasing benefit of marriage 173 transformation as crucial 61 globalisation 24, 47, 50, 200–201
Golden Age of the family 48
Golden Age of the welfare state 17, 41, 46, 116, 191 government coalition see coalition governments green parties
classification 31
Denmark 52, 77, 99–102, 120, 121
Finland 52
Iceland 52, 105
Norway 52, 158
representation in parliaments 52
Sweden 52, 53, 152, 153
highly educated women and men
and divorce 174–175
and fertility 171
and gender gap in employment 182 historicising earner-carer politics 188–195 home-based care CFC schemes enabling choice of freedom of choice between alternative care forms and 158 between daycare and 132, 145, 149 for older children 162 parents’ active choice between childcare services and 151 party differences on whether parents should have right to choose 148 party rationales shifting from 157, 164, 206 protagonist framing of 146 home care allowance (CFC) in economic crisis years 80 long family leaves 182
Sweden 96, 203
housewife ideology 45
housewife politics 70, 72, 85, 127, 150, 152
Iceland
childcare oriented towards educational goals in 136–139
minor and inconsequential CFC in 158, 160
parental leave
expanding and individualising quota model 103–106 slow evolution of rights 82–83 three-part division of 92, 93, 97, 98, 106, 191, 194 ideal types 10–11, 15, 19, 193–194

ideas
- cognitive 30
- essentialist 111–112, 197
- functionalist 43
- maternalist 111, 198
- neoliberal 51, 125, 199
- normative 30

role of
- as drivers 84
- in policy formation 28–30
- in political reform processes 4, 16–17 zombie 28, 205

ideational categories 30

ideational change 17, 25, 163–164, 178, 196 ideational foundation of family policy 29–30 ideational layers, shifting 188, 196–202 ideational pressures against welfare state 49–51 ideational shifts 50, 82, 137, 145, 196–202

immigrant(s)
- adaptation 184–185
- au pairs 139, 140–141
- daycare as arena of integration for children 201

Denmark
- and CFC 160
- childcare as mandatory 200
- links to poverty 180
- receipt of benefits and obligation to work 182

Finland
- daycare as important for integration 134
- linked to poverty 180
- and gender discourse 206
- and gender equality problems 183
- increasing marginalisation of mothers
- and CFC 157–158, 165

employment 141, 157–158, 165, 184

links to poverty 183

low employment rate 141

as new parent category 199 uneducated, stay-at-home 148 in Nordic welfare states 57

Norway
- and CFC 156–158, 200
- employment rates 182
- links to poverty 180
- overrepresentation of children not enrolled in childcare 131 parents 180, 200, 201

Sweden
- and CFC 152–153
- employment rates 182
- facilitating integration of 69–70
- pre-school enrolment 126
- reform of parental leave 200

see also women’s employment: immigrant immigration

- from 1970s 47
- era of new 57, 179

increasing
- causing new concern about gender equality and labour market participation 199
- and daycare 134
- to Norway and Sweden 180
- social risks associated with 182

Nordic policies differing in relation to 57–58, 180, 183 radical right parties’ anti-immigration position 58, 206 relating CFC benefits to problems with 153 stops 49, 60

time and process as crucial for understanding 184 incremental change 26, 120, 143, 187, 191 individualisation of parental leave rights 65, 66, 84, 88, 98, 103, 109–114, 191, 194 principle of 68

shift from familisation to 189 strengthening 201
institutional childcare
early history 115 versus family care 139–143, 146 marginalised objections to 142–143
partisan preferences 202, 206 scepticism against 118, 142 and social investment paradigm 164, 201 institutionalisation
of childcare 117–122, 163
of gender equality objective 84 of idea of gender neutrality 66 of social policy rights-based thinking 40 interpretative struggles 29, 196–202, 208

Keynesian welfare state 49–50 labour force/market participation

and CFC 155, 158, 164
immigrant 57, 70, 149, 182, 183 increasing immigration causing new concern about 199 as key indicator of integration 183 mothers’ 2, 70, 134–135
and poverty 179
women’s 11, 34, 67, 80, 90, 116, 137, 149, 164, 167, 173, 176, 177, 182, 183, 184, 197, 198

labour market
activation policy 77
and CFC schemes 164–165 common Nordic 42
demand
as rationale for parental leave reform 85 for skilled workers, and poverty 180
Denmark 75, 77, 78, 100, 102, 110, 117–118, 121, 159–160
and divorce 174
ethnic segregation in 183 and family policy 12, 18, 36, 51, 58, 198–199

gendered 175–176
Iceland 56, 103, 104, 137
immigrant women increasing activity in 182, 184 weaker position in 183, 185 immigrants’ integration 179 lower-educated people 182
Norway 60, 70, 73, 84, 85, 92, 128, 129, 155, 157–158, 165, 205–206 occupational gender segregation 177 potential inequalities in dualised 87 profound transformations in 3 social partners 54, 78, 86 social protection depending on performance in 57 structural changes generating increasing marginalisation 207–208
Sweden 44, 60, 67, 69, 70, 84, 123, 124, 125–126, 141, 152, 185, 200 women’s entry into 5, 115 women’s integration into 60

layering and childcare services expansion 139 of earner-carer reform 191 in European family policy 7
incremental 188
as mode of change 7, 16, 26
leave see parental leave left–right axis 31, 54, 103, 144 left–right cleavage 32, 35, 85, 93, 100–101, 112, 119, 126, 128, 130–131, 135, 205 left–right coalition government 106–107 left–right spectrum 32, 187–188, 203 left-wing parties
antagonists of CFC 161 versus centre-right 51–55, 85, 142, 145, 150, 202
classification 31
correlated with family policy change (1980s–1990s) 34
criticism of Nordic welfare state model 50
Denmark 75, 77, 85, 100–102, 120–122
earner-carer policy protagonists 188, 202 as enabling dual-earner model 17 equal sharing 112
facing constraints related to changing electorates 195
Finland 108, 132, 133, 145
Iceland 46, 83, 103, 105, 137
Norway 71, 90–93, 129, 130, 154, 156–158, 157, 178, 204 opposition against marketisation 206 preferences 32
prioritising gender equality 202 reforming social democratic thinking 50
Sweden 96, 97, 98, 123, 124, 127, 143, 151–153, 178
understanding of freedom of choice 142 women increasingly likely to vote for 34
liberal parties
antagonist position on CFC 161
classification 31
Denmark 52, 53, 54, 76–77, 99–102, 120, 121, 122, 159
Finland 53, 108, 132, 135
Iceland 52
and modified capitalism 42
Norway 45, 46, 52, 91, 92–93, 112, 143, 151–153, 178
preferences 32
Sweden 44, 45, 52, 53, 67, 69–70, 85, 96, 98, 112–113,
123–124, 151–152, 203
liberal welfare regime 9, 174 lower-educated/low education 165, 171, 181–182
male breadwinner model/regime and 1970s’ reforms 187 divorce as consequence of decline of 173
erosion of 5, 11, 188–189 Europe moving away from 8, 34
and gender equality 37, 72, 85, 170
as ideal typical gender regime 10 logic of 2
and Nordic family policy hybridity 193 outdated rules based on 67 replaced by dual-earner model 7, 17 market ideology 143
marketisation
of childcare
economic crisis paving way for neoliberal ideas of 125
in Finland 206
as increasing in provision of services 195
motivated by parental choice 143 partisan preferences 151, 203, 206
as possibly compromising equality 136
in Sweden 143, 151, 190, 206
of public services 108 of social and health care services 136
of welfare 50 marriage
as currently more stable 172 decline in 5, 172 factors increasing stability of 173–174
gendered division of labour increasing benefits of 173 lowest educated having lowest likelihood of entering 171 patriarchal laws 42
previous era of stability as unlikely to return 175 taxation systems 20
maternalism 45, 64, 195
maternalist design 107
maternalist ideas 111, 198 maternalist justification 44 maternalist logic 11, 154 maternalist remnant/undercurrent 114, 202
maternity leave
Denmark 75, 78, 99, 190, 198
dominating as policy measure 7 EU legislation 65, 78, 90
Finland 79–80, 107, 109
Iceland 82
introduction of 64
Norway 11, 71, 74, 114
shift to parental leave 2, 187 Sweden’s shift to gender-neutral leave arrangement 190–191 middle-class men 150 middle-class mothers 133 middle-class voters for reform 97 middle-class women 123
modernisation of family policy factors characterising 44 main stages as responses to 7 of gender relations 172 societal 32, 172
of welfare states and gender equality 23–25 modernity 23–24, 44, 50, 55
modes of change
as at centre of reform processes 16 analyses 16
distinction between different 26
family policy 25–28
main 16, 25
policy 188–195
modified capitalism 42 mother hegemony 82
motherhood
competing policy rationales reflecting different ideas
about 29
essentialist perceptions of 111–112 fertility decline and timing of first 169 politicisation of fatherhood as struggle over 111 ‘proper,’ changing gendered beliefs
about 197–198
working 5, 34, 170
motherhood penalty 176
mothers see employed mothers; immigrant(s): mothers; single mothers; stay-at-home mothers mothers as primary carers 67, 80, 85, 94, 198 mothers’ employment
Denmark 118
diversity of family policies to support 20
Finland 79, 132, 135, 145, 147–148
Iceland 136
immigrant 141, 157–158, 165, 184
in knowledge economy 51 logics supporting 11
Nordic countries 116, 140, 141, 144, 162–163, 178
Norway 45, 70, 72, 74, 128, 129, 156, 157–158, 184
Sweden 68, 95, 154
as tool of poverty reduction, as goal 198 welfare states
European 8
Nordic 169
mothers’ wage 146, 159, 205 multiple equilibria 37–38 municipal autonomy 131, 152, 192 neo-familist/neo-familism 16, 164, 193 neoliberal approach 58
neoliberal currents challenging sustainability of Nordic welfare state 50
neoliberal discourse 135 neoliberal ideas 51, 125, 199 neoliberal-inspired choice rhetoric 205 neoliberal model 16
neoliberal offensive 46 neoliberal perspectives 104, 109 neoliberal value basis 50 neoliberalism 51, 54, 56, 86, 164 new fathers 67, 89, 95
new social risks 5, 8, 61, 179, 182, 207
non-profit childcare provision 122, 126–127, 135–136, 139, 143
non-transferable parental leave
Denmark 102, 113
as earner-carer policy 2
EU directives 89–90
Finland 106, 107, 109, 113
Iceland 83, 103, 104, 113
as individualisation of leave 65
Norway 91, 93
and ‘real utopia’ model 194 reserved for fathers 89 see also father quotas
Sweden 96
Nordic bloc politics see bloc politics Nordic cooperation 40, 42, 61 Nordic earner-carer policy formation see policy formation Nordic fertility regime 168–172 Nordic welfare state model acknowledged as an ideal 56
earner-carer policies
as defining attribute of 207 Nordic earner-carer politics as integral part of 191 fears of demise of 193 as flexible and variable 55–58 fluctuating appeal of 50

and gender equality 207
high fertility and high female employment as constitutive elements of 169
historicising 39–42
strong public support for 54 and universality 87
women’s employment as integral to 179
see also welfare state(s) Nordic welfare state(s) changing economy and population 46–49 and childcare services 116, 119, 139, 195 choice as influential concept in debates 163 comparison of politics of policy formation 19 as continuously reforming and adapting 39 defining properties/characteristics development of service-intensive state as 115 earner-carer policy as 2, 207 normalcy of wage work as 41, 61, 198
parental leave 64
stateness, universalism and equality 56–57 universalist idea of social rights based on citizenship 41, 61 distinctiveness 57, 58, 195 and dual-earner/dual caregiver model 2, 12, 16, 207
and family policy 2, 3, 15, 16, 26, 42–46
and gender segregation 177–178 ideational pressures against 49–51 marginalisation of low-educated increasing in 171 migrant women perceived as burden for 184 mixed patterns of individualisation and familisation 15 modernisation and earner-carer policies 188
and gender equality 23–25
neoliberal ideas reaching 46, 199 and new social risks 5, 61 orientation towards gender equality, support of employment, provision of care services and maintenance of high living standards 169 partisan politics influencing 54–55
and poverty 180–181
twofold dependence of women on 60 universalism 39–40, 41, 56, 135 women’s labour force participation 167 normalcy of wage work 41, 61, 188, 197, 198–199 normative ideas 30
Norway
CFC controversies and partial displacement 154–158 childcare catching up period 127–132 parental leave father quota battles 90–95 fathers’ conditional rights to 70–74 nuclear family 43, 75, 175, 201 occupational gender segregation 18, 167, 168, 175, 176–178 oil crisis 41, 47–48, 50 old social risks 7, 179, 181 Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) as active promoter of women’s employment and childcare services 116 as having little significance for Nordic family policy development 61 on home care allowance 147, 149, 158 role in spread of policy ideas 19 social investment turn as variable across 51 paradigmatic change 16, 25–26, 187 paradigms anti-state 164 earner-carer, advancements towards 187 social investment 201
parent categories
degendering 190, 201
examples of 88
immigrant 199, 200
legitimate, changing ideas on 84 removal of biological 189, 202 parent groups 168, 179 parental choice
active, between childcare services and home care 149 advocated to limit role of state 202 balancing with individual rights 113 competing layers of ideas from discourse of 199 versus demand for childcare 129 diversity in childcare increased, under banner of 136 and father quotas 91, 92, 100, 110–111, 112 and flexibility 69, 74, 78, 81 and gender equality among diverse citizens 13
and CFC 164, 199
Denmark 101
Finland 147–148
Iceland 106
Norway 85, 112, 183
and parental leave 113
part-time work 178
partisan divisions reflecting different preferences 187 supporting preservation of complementary gender roles 199
Sweden 84
introduction of vouchers to increase 126 justifying idea of 30
marketisation of childcare motivated by 143 rationale, as rapidly absorbed into Finnish family policy discourse 146 versus social investment 162 universal right to childcare regarded as precondition for 200 see also freedom of choice/free choice parental equality 78–82
parental leave
best interests of child in relation to 87–88, 101 economic compensation cut as austerity measure in some countries 191
Denmark 75, 78, 86–87
Finland 81
Iceland 82, 83, 103, 105
national variation in 64
Norway 64, 73–74, 91, 92, 93, 94
as path dependent 86
Sweden 68–69
tied to general social security system 86 entitlements
based on residence 81 distinguished between parent categories 88 family 68, 71, 76, 80, 82, 84, 89, 107, 113–114, 189, 190
fathers’ 82, 102, 103
fathers seeing it as mothers’ 111 individual 80
single parents 65
flexibility 64, 69, 74, 78, 81, 83, 97, 98, 106, 109 generosity of 65, 68, 86 quotas politics of 89–90, 109–114 protagonists and antagonists linked to bloc politics 112 three-part division of 92, 93, 97, 98, 99, 106, 191, 194
see also father quotas;
gender-neutral parental leave; maternity leave;
non-transferable parental leave; paternity leave parental leave rights and demotherisation 88
of diverse families 69–70, 81–82, 88, 102, 208 of fathers
ambivalence over, in Denmark 75–78, 85, 87 breastfeeding used to set limits to individual 202 conditional, in Norway 70–74, 85 conditioned on mothers’ economic activity 183 conditioned on situation and agreement of mothers 80, 84 EU directive ensuring 78, 194 extending individual 199 individual non-transferable, as hallmark of Nordic earner-carer policies 89 gender differences in 74, 85, 98, 201 idea gaining increasing acceptance outside Nordic countries 89–90 as individual right of each parent 187 individualisation of 65, 66, 84, 88, 98, 103, 109–114, 191, 194
part-time 78
parents see immigrant(s): parents; single parents
part-time work
in blueprint proposal 12 and childcare 117–118, 168
and parental leave 74, 78
women’s accepted as expression of preference and choice 178 declining in Nordic welfare states since 1980s 177 explanations for increase, and decline 178 as expression of conditional normalcy of women’s wage work 198 high levels of 175, 178 and immigration 182
less prevalence in Finland 146, 162 in Nordic labour market integration 60 see also women’s employment partisan preferences 35, 187–188, 202–206 party competition conflict dimensions 142 and family policy development 33–35 individualising parental leave rights 108, 113 politics as subject to 31 party families concept and classifications 31–32 and partisan preferences 35, 203 party positions aligning with profile of 202 party system bipolarity of Swedish 53 complexity of Nordic 52 paternity leave Denmark 76, 78, 100
Finland 80, 106, 109
Iceland 83
see also parental leave path dependency 1970s’ reforms establishing 191 importance in development of childcare 142–143
as mode of change 25
and parental leave 84
as positive self-reinforcing effects of policies 27 path shifting, as mode of change 25 periodisation 7–8, 41–42, 116, 189–190 policy displacement see displacement policy feedback 26–27 see also feedback effects policy formation failures as important part of explaining 22 Nordic earner-carer bloc politics as important in 202 conflicts and divergences 202, 208 depending on national histories, culture and politics 190 importance of contexts 190–191 interlinked with welfare states 39 interpretative struggles in 196–202 main periods 188–190, 199 modes of change emerging from 188–195 politics of 16–18, 187 shift from familisation to individualisation, as general trend 189 political parties and governments as key actors in 17 politics of ideas in 28–30
modes of change 25–28
Nordic earner-carer 16–18, 187 parties 30–35
policy outcomes 36–38
welfare state modernisation and gender equality 23–25
policy outcomes
  diminishing Nordic distinctiveness and homogeneity 58 placing in time 36–38
  reason for change 26 see also earner-carer policy/policies: outcomes policy output 34–35, 55 policy/policies
  activation 77, 179, 181
discursive struggles 16–17, 28
modes of change 188–195
see also childcare policies;
  earner-carer policy/policies;
  family policy
political blocs
  cleavages between 203
  Denmark 120
  Finland 108
  Norway 91, 165
  and partisan preferences 35 struggles over familisation versus individualisation 205
  Sweden 53, 95, 98, 161
see also bloc politics
political parties
  agrarian 31, 52, 53, 145–146 conservative-centrist 32 government coalitions as usual Nordic form 17
as having different roles in reform processes 34–35 instrumentalist 33
internal division 113 rationales regarding CFC 161–165 religious 31, 32
role in policy formation 16, 17, 21, 30 targeting women 34
see also centre-left parties;
centre-right parties/governments; confessional parties; conservative parties;
green parties; left-wing parties; liberal parties; partisan preferences; party competition; party families;
populist right-wing parties;
right-wing parties; social democratic parties politisation of fatherhood expanding and individualising quota model 103–106
father quota battles 90–95
father quotas revived by EU 99–103
as likely contributor to changing gender division in unpaid work 168 as major component of Nordic earner-carer policies 195 towards equal parenthood 109–114 politics of family 30–32 historicising earner-carer 188–195 Nordic bloc 51–55
parental leave, placed in time 84–88 see also policy formation: politics of population aging 47, 49 increasing heterogeneity as challenge facing welfare states 5
in Nordic countries
  decrease in low-educated segment of 168 immigrants as share of 49 pressures on services 49 and universalism 41 population commission 43, 44 populist right-wing parties 31, 49, 52, 148, 149, 161, 206 poverty
ern-carer policy expected to lower rates 167 EU’s employment strategy aimed at combating 62 immigrant background associated with 180, 183 increasing rates in 180 labour market participation of crucial importance to national differences in rates of 179–180 low education associated with 180, 181, 208 mother’s employment as tool for reducing 51, 198 previous low rates in Nordic countries 56 single parenthood associated with 180, 181 spending on childcare services as effective way of reducing 180 private childminders 118, 123, 129, 140 privatisation
1980s Nordic trend towards 50
Denmark 119
Finland 135, 136
Iceland 139
justifications for 136
Sweden 54, 143, 151
problem definition 16, 29–30 problem solution 16, 30 process see temporality: and process productivity/productivist Danish welfare state 199 versus family life 157 knowledge as driver of 51
for-profit childcare provision 122, 126, 130–131, 136, 143 public childcare 1970s’ reforms instituted in 187
as principle of new path following 191 contested development 116 contracting out of 8
as defamilising policy 14
in Denmark 75, 118–122, 159, 190, 205 dominating parents’ organisation of childcare 139
as earner-carer policy 2, 139 evolution, as history of bloc politics 142 expansion in Denmark 46 extensive Nordic systems 13
in Finland 132, 133, 145–147, 149, 180, 192, 206
and gender equality 24 ‘going public’ 115, 139–143
as hallmark of Nordic welfare states 116, 139
in Iceland 136–137, 138, 139
and liberation of women 67 local government policies as important in historical development of 142 marketisation of 206 and Nordic women’s employment 140–141
in Norway 127–128, 129, 130, 131, 155, 163, 206 and parental freedom of choice 144
in Finland 145–147, 149 parental leave intended as complement to, in Sweden 66
partisan preferences
in Denmark 75, 120, 121, 122, 159, 205
in Finland 132, 145, 146
in Nordic countries 142, 162–163, 202–203
in Norway 127–128, 130, 155, 163, 206
in Sweden 151, 152, 206
in post-war Europe 24 rights to 12, 200
in Sweden 16, 123, 124, 127, 150–151, 152, 190, 206
quotas see father quotas; parental leave:
quotas
right-wing parties
  anti-immigration, electoral success 58 becoming more positive towards market-based solutions 54 correlated with family policy change (1980s–1990s) 34
criticism of Nordic welfare state model 50
Denmark 76, 77, 100–102, 120, 122, 159
in family party classification 31
Finland 79, 149, 193
Iceland 105
limiting size of state expenses advocated by 87
Norway 73, 91, 112, 129–131, 155–158, 163, 204
Sweden 85, 95, 112, 143
see also centre-right parties/ governments; left–right entries; populist right-wing parties rights to CFC 145, 157
to childcare 125–126, 130, 131, 141–142, 145, 198, 200, 202 of children 44, 65, 87–88, 95–96, 124, 141, 187, 189, 199, 201, 208 to flexible work arrangements 12 of housewives 45
to leave of absence for sick child 20 maternity leave 64, 65, 75–76, 79
ten’s caregiving 64
to no-fault divorce 42 strengthening rights of fathers as component of Nordic earner-carer policies 195 work–family reconciliation 189 to work reduced hours 12, 13, 20 see also parental leave rights; social rights; universal right to childcare; women’s rights role of ideas see ideas: role of same-sex parents 14, 69, 74, 81, 88, 201
sameness versus difference 12, 13, 15, 24–25, 85, 96, 111, 202 secular conservative-centrist parties 32 sediments of time 17, 196 segregation
  ethnic labour market 183 ethnic residential 121
see also gender segregation segregation trap 70, 152 single fathers 181
single mothers
  employment gap 181–182
  Iceland 136, 137, 192
  Norway 127, 128
perception as being among most vulnerable societal groups 179
Sweden 69
vulnerability during economic recessions 181
single parents
  among parent groups that have changed most in earner-carer era 179 doing better in societies that support equality of gender and class 181 in earner-carer model 2 employment gap and education levels 181–182
entitlements 65, 88
full-time childcare prioritised for children of 137, 141 right to quota of both parents 109 social democratic parties
  Denmark 40, 52, 54, 55, 77, 85, 99–103, 112, 118, 120–122, 143, 159, 204
  Finland 52, 53, 81, 106, 107, 132–134, 145, 147–148, 149, 204
  Iceland 46, 52, 103
  Nordic countries 42, 161, 162–163, 188, 202
  Norway 40, 45, 55, 73, 85, 91, 112, 129, 140, 156, 158, 204 social democratic thinking 50, 73, 156 social democratic welfare regime 9, 16, 17, 23, 40, 55, 56, 174, 175 social duties 57, 58
social investment
emergence of idea 51
with focal attention to individual child 141 increasing emphasis on, across political spectrum 142–143 as influential rationale for childcare policies 62, 130, 140 logics 116–117
neoliberal ideas challenged by 51 Nordic welfare states’ strong emphasis on 58 and organisation of childcare services 164, 189 paradigm 201
social partners
and EU 102
financing role of 79 importance in parental leave policies 86 labour market 54, 78, 86
part-time childcare places impeded by, in Denmark 140 social rights
to childcare 141
expansion during Golden Age of the welfare state 41 extending to all citizens 7 legislating childcare as 141, 190 modifying individual’s reliance on market 9
parental leave 189
tied to individual, rather than family 11, 194
universal 39–40
universalist idea of 41, 61
women’s 7
social risks see new social risks; old social risks socialisation of care 34
of children 7
socio-economic backgrounds children from higher 136 daycare institutions as important for children of all 137 less advantaged 126
socio-economic differences in access to childcare 139 among families 134
socio-economic groups change in behaviour in different 36–37 change in relative distribution of 36 changing composition of 168 socio-economic inequalities 131 stay-at-home mothers claims for increasing economic support for, in Norway 155 as dominating ideal in Norway, pre-1970s 44 versus employed mothers 71–72, 85, 123, 156, 163, 199–200 Finland paying allowances to 132 uneducated, as targeted, in Finland 148 very few Nordic women as, outside labour force 59 strong concept(s)
choice as 199
gender equality as 196
supply of childcare correlation with mothers’ employment 140 demand exceeding for several decades 117, 141, 192 dynamic interplay with demand 125, 139, 140, 141 temporal incongruity 22, 87, 110, 162, 192 temporality importance for policy outcomes 18, 207 and process
emphasis on 39 importance of 16, 22, 139, 167
in politics 18
and time horizons, importance in policy analysis 3 three-part division of parental leave 92, 93, 97, 98, 99, 106, 191, 194 time- and context-dependent association between women’s employment and divorce rates as 173 central explanatory accounts as 167 cross-sectional correlations as 176–177 earner-carer policies considered as 18 time horizon 3, 26
tripartite negotiation 79 typology/typologies as classification device 19 family policy 9–10
gender-oriented 15 welfare state regime 9, 10, 14 unemployment and home care allowances 162, 182 of immigrant mothers 148 of immigrant women 184 impact of economic crises 47–48, 119 increasing, as new social risk 5 and parental leave 77, 78, 82, 100, 104
see also employment universal right to childcare
Denmark 120–121
Finland 133–135
Norway 130
Sweden 125–126
universalism
development of 41
as flexible dimension in Nordic earner-carer policies 200 lack of clear definitions 57 Nordic welfare states taking on characteristic of 41, 56 representing historical trend toward welfare state involving whole population 41 substance of, varying across countries and over time 141–142 tensions with immigration/multiculturalism 57 welfare states underpinned by commitments to 39–40 unregulated childcare 140, 190 unstable families see family instability voucher system
Finland 136
Nordic countries 143
Sweden 126–127, 143, 151, 190 welfare state paradox 175–179
welfare state regimes dimensions defining 9 and ECEC services 116
and ideational processes 29 stimulating family policy research 8 and welfare state paradox 175
welfare state(s)
changing environments 46–49
European 8, 46–47, 54, 58, 60, 61
and family policy 4–6
gender-egalitarian approach 2 general trend of parental leave improvements producing increasing demand 87 Golden Age of expansion 17, 46, 116, 191
and new social risks 5–6
partisan politics influencing 31 see also Nordic welfare state model; Nordic welfare state(s) women’s employment
Denmark 46, 159, 160
and EU 62, 116
Europe 64, 174
Finland 147, 165
Iceland 137
idea of liberation through 43
immigrant 157, 182–185, 199
masculinising of relations 37 Nordic countries
association with divorce rates 173–174
and childcare 140, 142
and high gender segregation 177–178 high proportion of part-time rates in 59–60 as right and as obligation 179
Nordic welfare states 167–168, 169, 179
Norway 44–45, 127, 157
part-time 60
right to 132, 133
Sweden 67, 123
women workers perceived as encumbered workers 178–179

see also labour force/market participation: women’s; part-time work: women’s

women’s rights
to work 8, 124, 132, 133, 140, 179, 189, 198

work-family reconciliation
Denmark 77
and family policy 59
Finland 106
Iceland 82–83
Norway 70

working-class children 115 working-class men 150 working-class mothers 44, 91 working-class versus agrarian interests 40 working-class voters 52, 97, 204 working-class women 72 working-classes, aim to secure adequate standard of living for 123 working mothers see employed mothers working time arrangements 48, 60–61, 179 working time regulation 6, 12, 194

zombie ideas 28, 205